If you need information regarding:

BEHAVIORAL INTERVENTION

UCLA is committed to providing a safe working environment for all faculty, staff and students –one that is free from violence or threats of harm. To help ensure campus safety, a Behavioral Intervention Team (BIT) has been created solely dedicated to this important issue. Campus violence prevention depends on you, the UCLA community, to notice and refer potentially worrisome behaviors or situations before they result in harm. A person that receives help sooner, rather than later, may be less likely to experience more severe symptoms or cause harm to self or others. Thus, threat assessment is a supportive process, not a disciplinary or punitive one.

Report all emergencies to the UCLA Police Department by dialing 9-1-1

For non-emergencies and questions, please contact the Behavioral Intervention Team Coordinator at:

If you're not in immediate danger, the UCLA Staff and Faculty Counseling Center can provide assistance. If you've experienced sexual violence, sexual assault, sexual harassment, dating/domestic violence or stalking, confidential support and guidance are available to you.

Campus Assault Resources & Education (CARE) is a confidential place for survivors of sexual assault, dating and domestic violence, and stalking. CARE offers free consultation and supportive services to UCLA students, staff, and faculty. You can get help without formally reporting an assault or requesting formal treatment. CARE also provides trauma-informed yoga to survivors as well as awareness and prevention education to the campus community.

If you are interested in these resources or would like to contact a CARE advocate, please contact:

WHISTLEBLOWER

As a public institution, the university has a responsibility to the public, the legislature, students, faculty, staff and donors to conduct its affairs ethically and in compliance with laws and regulations. Part of how UC demonstrates accountability for its conduct is having in place a mechanism for people to let the university know if they become aware of concerns about how UC business is conducted.

If you want to report an improper governmental activity, please contact:

University-wide Whistleblower Hotline
Hotline: (800) 403-4744/(800) 296-7188
